Speakman Re-elected

The campaign in the constituency of Red Deer was conducted very quietly, and the election ended likewise. The result of the election in the Red Deer riding at noon Wednesday, with 20 polls to hear from, was as follows—

Speakman, Prog. .... 5414
LaFrance, Cons. .... 2134
giving Speakman a majority of 3280
The U.F.A. committee estimate that when the remaining 20 polls are heard from, Mr. Speakman will have a majority of over 3500. There will only be 500 votes polled in the remaining polls, and it is estimated that Speakman will receive 75 per cent of the total.

It is evident that Mr. LaFrance will lose his deposit, in view of the fact that he has to have fifty per cent. of the total votes polled.

Voting in Didsbury on Tuesday resulted as follows—

Speakman, Prog. .... 279
LaFrance, Cons. .... 128

Political meetings held here last week by both the Progressive and conservative candidates were affected materially by the condition of the roads. Townspeople largely comprised the audience on each occasion, added to by those of our country residents within easy distance of town. As was probably to be expected, Mr. Speakman had the largest following of country supporters at his meeting, and his address took the form more or less of a report of his work whilst at Ottawa. In addition to this, however, he presented a very fair analysis of the policies of the Liberal and Conservative parties.

Save Your Grain Dust.

Grain dust taken from a grain elevator has been found to have sufficient explosive power to run an automobile engine.

Department of agriculture chemists who conducted tests, at Washington, have announced that while the engine did not make any prolonged, continuous run, enough power was developed with the dust to turn it over many times. A hand system of feeding the dust through a tube to the intake valve was employed.

The experimenters said the study gave "encouraging results which indicated the possibilities of designing an engine to use grain dust as the source of fuel."

Full Steam Ahead

Within a few days of the writing of this article the electors of Canada will journey to the polls in order to select their representatives in a new House of Commons and thereby also determine the political complexion of the Government. Before this article appears in print the verdict of the ballots will have been rendered.

Whatever that verdict may be, and at the time of writing it is very decidedly in doubt, it is to be hoped that it will be sufficiently decisive one way or the other to give the successful party a fair working majority in the next Parliament. It is in the interests of Canada that stable government be re-established and unquestionably the great majority of the people wish it.

Economic conditions throughout the Dominion are very satisfactory at the present time, business is good and promises to be better, industry in all its branches is active, trade is rapidly expanding, and increased prosperity is everywhere apparent. What Canada now requires to not only maintain but to further advance these conditions, is a removal of the era of doubt and indecision in government which has existed as a result of the stalemate in Parliament.

A young country like Canada can ill afford to "drift" at any time, but at no time is such a policy, or rather lack of policy, quite so dangerous as during those periods when decision and vigorous aggressive action are necessary to take full advantage of the flowing tide.

Quite apart from all partisan considerations, or whether Mackenzie King or Arthur Meighen head the Government, there are certain policies which the present and future welfare of Canada demand should be adhered to and further developed. They may well constitute fundamental planks in the programme of all Canadian Governments, and it is to be earnestly hoped that a Government will be placed in office sufficiently strong to carry them out. Failing the creation of such a Government, both parties might well unite to give effect to them.

In the first place, the policy which has been developed during the past few years, and for which Hon. Mr. Robb certainly deserves great credit, of negotiating trade arrangements with various countries should be persevered in. The present activity in Canada's manufacturing industries is the direct outcome of this policy which has resulted in opening doors and creating wider markets abroad for Canadian goods. It is not a protective tariff designed to shut foreign-made goods out of Canada that has brought present prosperity to manufacturers and the labor they employ, but the development of an export trade far exceeding anything hitherto known, and building up a favorable balance of trade mounting up into the hundreds of millions of dollars. Last year, for the first time in Canada's history, more manufactured goods were exported from Canada than were imported. This record should be maintained, and the favorable margin steadily increased. It can be done through the development of foreign markets, and the making of mutually advantageous trade agreements whereby such markets will be opened to Canada.

Secondly, unremitting attention should be devoted to the question of immigration. Close and expert study of every angle of this large subject should continue without any interruption, and necessary legislation passed, appropriations made, and efficient administration as free as possible of red tape provided, all to the end that an ever increasing stream of settlers may be located here to till the fertile agricultural lands and develop the many other resources of natural wealth of which the Dominion can boast. There is no room for, and no reason for, party politics in dealing with this essentially great nation-building programme.

While Canada must continue to raise a large revenue for the Federal Government in order to meet and discharge our war obligations, further reductions in taxation should be made so as to relieve the individual taxpayer and release money for profitable and productive investment. The increased buying power of the people following tax reductions, the added momentum given to business and in all lines of industrial activity, resulting in increased employment, will, in the final analysis, speed up the business of the whole that the Government will receive quite as large a revenue in the aggregate although each individual contribution will be smaller.

There are other matters calling for attention and definite action, but these three outstanding subjects of national importance should not be neglected no matter what the complexion of the next Parliament and Government may be. Furthermore, the Government should be called upon to carry these policies into early effect. Lastly, the Government, whether under Mr. King or Mr. Meighen, should be accorded support by the people as a whole in a united endeavor to give stability in government, sound administration, and vigorous action along broad lines of Canadian advancement.

Believes Leprosy Is Curable

Medical Secretary to Leper Mission Optimistic About New Treatment

Dr. Robert G. Cochrane, who is not yet 30, has just returned to England after a 40,000 miles tour of the world's principal leper stations.

In his capacity as medical secretary to the Mission for Lepers, he has recently visited every centre in Burma, India, Siam, Borneo and the Philippines.

For four months Dr. Cochrane lived among lepers at one of the stations, spending his time attending to them and investigating their cases. He is very optimistic about future work.

"If you can get them early on in their trouble," he said, "many patients can be treated as outpatients. In all these early cases there is a great deal of hope. Medical advancement in treatment of the disease has been considerable in the past six years. It is necessary to recognize the disease early, then with efficient treatment, and the segregation of old cases, the scourge will be got under control.

Once victims realize that with early treatment the disease can be arrested there will be no difficulty in getting them to come forward to the stations. By the end of this century leprosy should, with the help of right measures, be considerably reduced."

For Aches, Pains, The Safe Home Remedy NERVILINE

When sudden sickness comes, when the kiddies come in with colds, their little chests and throats sore from coughing, quick results always follow a vigorous rubbing with good old Nerviline. If it's Cramps, Colic, Diarrhoea, Nerviline is a wonderful friend; it brings ease and comfort so quickly. For young and old, to overcome the minor ills that constantly arise in the home, nothing compares with "Nerviline."—35 cents at all dealers.

A train of sixty-five freight cars will be required to transport the bedding for the world's largest hotel, now building in Chicago.

Like a Grip at the Throat. For a disease that is not classed as fatal there is probably none which causes more terrible suffering than asthma. Sleep is impossible, the sufferer becomes exhausted and finally, though the attack passes, is left in unending dread of its return. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is a wonderful remedial agent. It immediately relieves the restricted air passages as thousands can testify. It is sold by dealers everywhere.

Worms in children work havoc. These pests attack the tender lining of the intestines and, if left to pursue their ravages undisturbed, will ultimately perforate the wall, because these worms are of the hook variety that cling to and feed upon the interior surfaces. Miller's Worm Powders will not only exterminate these worms, of whatever variety, but will serve to repair the injury they have done.

A dead man is of as much use in the world as a lazy one—and he takes up less room.

Discovered High Explosive

Lloyd George Says Few Helped Britain in Great War

Former Premier David Lloyd George, at the summer school of the Inter-Jewish Federation at Bangor, revealed that Dr. Chaim Weizmann, Zionist leader, helped to save the nation during the war by his discovery of an essential ingredient of high explosives.

"When I asked what honor I could recommend him for he replied: 'I want no honor, but I would like you to do something for my people,'" Lloyd George said.

Lloyd George paid a tribute to Jewish war service, saying that no class responded more readily to the call than the Jewish people in every country. He declared the Jews are true to the country in which they dwell and that it was a great mistake to imagine that a race which was international could not be national too.

The Poisons We Love

Every healthy man, woman and child looks forward to the pleasure of appetizing breakfasts, tasty lunches and abundantly provided dinners without giving a thought to the time when such table delights will, for them, no longer hold attraction. If the reader will recall the many popular gourmets with whom he was acquainted, who no longer continue to meet him at the festive board, he cannot fail to be struck by the fact that almost every one of such friends were fatally stricken when they should have been in the prime of their lives. And if the actual cause of their decrease be investigated, the fact that the cancer scourge laid them low should give the reader food for candidly personal self-examination.

The refined foods, rich sauces, meats, denatured vegetables and fruits, white sugar and white flour from all of which the last trace of health-giving potassium and other salts have been deliberately or thoughtlessly extracted, unite in creating more acids in the body than any human liver can either neutralize or dispose of economically. The consequent state of acidosis is the precursor of the now practically universal complaint of constipation and, as Dr. Robert Bell, the eminent English authority, published to the world: "Constipation is the forerunner of Cancer."

The reason why cancer strikes civilized rich and poor in an impartial way is because civilization generally is suffering from an unrecognized potassium starvation. This peculiar form of starvation is essential to the establishment of cancer in the human body and, as the late Dr. F. W. Forbes Ross stated in 1912, if the potassium deficiency be remedied, cancer, even in advanced stages, will retrograde. Upon the profound experience and knowledge of the last quoted English authority has been built the unique success of The Cantassium Treatment for cancer and other diseases arising from similar cause. A book explaining this treatment of the deadly self-inflicted blood disease of cancer will be mailed to all interested in fighting the scourge if application is made to Charles Walter, 51 Brunswick Avenue, Toronto, 1, Ontario, Canada. ## ARE YOU AFRAID OF YOUR MEALS?

Proof That the Stomach is Weak and Needs Toning Up

Are you one of the many sufferers who dread meal time? Hungry, and yet afraid to eat, because of the pains and discomforts that follow. When the stomach is out of order the whole system suffers, and as the blood becomes thin and watery it becomes increasingly difficult to correct the digestive disorder. There is no tonic for the stomach that is not a tonic for the whole body; thus a blood-building tonic such as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, not only relieves indigestion, but adds to the general strength. Mr. D. J. Shaw, Selkirk Road, P.E.I., has proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in a severe case of indigestion and relates his experience for the benefit of other sufferers. He says:—"I suffered from indigestion for a number of years. My case was so bad that words fail to describe it. My appetite was gone, constipation was present, and my nerves were all on edge. I could not sleep well at night, and the world was a dark spot for me. I tried a number of remedies, but without any benefit. Then Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended, but without much faith, after so many failures, I decided to try them. After taking three boxes I noticed a change for the better. Then I got three boxes more and found I had a genuine remedy. I continued the treatment, took moderate exercise, could take plain food without suffering as formerly, and proved that these pills make good blood, and that this good blood will restore the stomach and nerves. Anyone suffering from stomach or nerve troubles will make no mistake in giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by mail at 50 cents a box by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Write today for a copy of the free booklet "What to Eat and How to Eat."

BRITISH MARINES ARE KILLED BY CHINESE TROOPS

Shanghai.—Three British naval officers and four seamen were killed and two officers and thirteen seamen wounded by Chinese troops of Wu Pei Fu's northern armies at Wanhhsien, Chechwan province, 1,250 miles up the Yangtze River. The British gunboat Cockchafer returned the fire, doing considerable damage to Wanhhsien, a city of 150,000. How many Chinese were killed or wounded is not known.

The conflict was begun when a British naval party of forty men on a river boat attempted to release two British steamers, the Wanhhsien and Wantung, seized by the Chinese in reprisal for the alleged drowning of fifty-six Chinese soldiers August 29, when the British steamer Wanliu, in attempting to escape from Chinese captors, upset three native boats.

The British killed were: Commander F. P. Barley and Lieut. A. R. Kiggins, of the gunboat Dispatch; Lieut. C. F. Ridge of the gunboat Cockchafer and Seamen Farmlner, Haslam, Marrott and Farrow.

The Chinese troops were commanded by General Yang Sen, an adherent of Wu Pei Fu, war lord of the central provinces, who was at Hankow, hundreds of miles distant, defending himself against Cantonese forces. Yang's men had seized the British steamers and refused negotiations and threatened to fire upon the officers of the gunboat Cockchafer.

The British retired but the next day, September 6, the small river steamer Kiawo, with forty men of various British gunboats aboard, succeeded in rescuing the officers of the steamer Wanhhsien before the Chinese lining the banks of the river began firing.

The British party, under fire, attempted to approach the steamer Wantung but twenty-two of the forty men of the British party were killed or wounded. They stood by, however, with their unprotected native boat while the Wantung's officers leaped overboard and rescued all of them from the water except Chief Engineer Johnson, who was wounded or drowned.

The British gunboat Cockchafer then bombarded the city of Wanhhsien, its shells doing much damage, with an undetermined number of Chinese casualties.

Would Take Drastic Action If Necessary

British Government Is Ready To Assist Mine Workers

London.—The decision of the mine owners to refer to the various districts the question whether the executive shall be given power to negotiate with the miners for a national agreement is a result of Churchill's threat that the government having given a guarantee of fair play to the miners, would, if necessary, take drastic action against the owners if they persisted in their dictatorial attitude.

The official report of the proceedings of the conferences, as issued by the government, was carefully edited for public consumption, but it is understood that Churchill during the meeting expressed himself with force and emphasis and told the owners that it was impossible for the government to allow mere stubbornness on their part to prevent a settlement if the miners were willing to make real concessions as it seems they are prepared to do.

Working On Bay Line

First Train Into Kettle Rapids Expected About Sept. 20

Regina.—The Hudson's Bay Railway, according to information received here by the On-to-the-Bay Association, is being pushed on. Mayor Burt, of Le Pas, states in a letter to the association that bridges are completed at Livingstone and Athol, and the first train into Kettle Rapids, which is the present end of the steel, 22 miles from the bay, is expected around September 20.

Canadians Serve On League Committees

Representatives Have Been Appointed On Six At Geneva

Geneva.—Canada secured representation on all six committees of the League of Nations assembly.

Sir George E. Foster serves on the first committee, which deals with legal and constitutional questions.

Sir George is also a member of the sixth committee, along with Dr. W. A. Riddell, permanent representative of Canada at Geneva. The sixth committee deals with political questions.

Hon. Philippe Roy, Canadian commissioner-general in Paris, takes his seat on the second committee, handling technical and organization questions.

The third committee considers the question of the reduction of armaments, and Hon. Mr. Roy and Sir Herbert Ames, financial director of the League of Nations, represent the Dominion thereon.

Sir Herbert Ames was elected also as a member of the fourth committee to deal with finance.

Dr. Riddell is on the fifth committee, which handles social and general questions.

Report Is Encouraging

Selected Immigrants Making Good Says Overseas Representative

Winnipeg.—Under the selective plan of immigration, the families being brought to Canada from Great Britain are proving themselves willing farmers, and are making good, according to Rev. J. W. Whillans, overseas representative of the British settlement service.

In connection with the activities of the service in Great Britain, Mr. Whillans stated that lack of interest and lack of money were the two great obstacles which have to be overcome by those seeking to attract immigration of a desirable character to Canada. He considered that the former problem would be met gradually as those who have immigrated made good, but that the second difficulty is one of economies which can only be adjusted by some form of legislation or a general betterment of conditions that is not apparent at the present moment.

First Message Between Irish Governments

Ulster Expresses Sympathy With Free State Over Cinema Tragedy

Drumcollogher, County Limerick, Ireland.—Forty-eight of those who perished in the fire which swept a flimsy wooden structure where a moving picture was being shown, were buried in the local churchyard in a common grave. Twenty-six of them were charred beyond identification.

Belfast, Ireland.—For the first time in history a message of sympathy has passed between the two Irish Governments.

Finance Minister Hugh Pollock, acting in the absence of Premier Craig, telegraphed President Cosgrave, of the Free State executive council, expressing Ulster's profound sympathy with those bereaved in the cinema tragedy at Drumcollogher.

A Handsome Bequest

Late Baroness Strathcona Left Montreal Hospital $121,500

Edinburgh, Scotland.—The will of the late Baroness Strathcona, who died on August 18 last, which was filed at Register House here, is dated November 17, 1925, and includes, among other public bequests, one of £25,000 (about $121,500) to the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal.

Baroness Strathcona was a daughter of Lord Strathcona, a former high commissioner for Canada in London, and succeeded to the title upon the death of her father in 1914. She was married in 1888 to Dr. Robert Jared Bliss Howard, of Montreal, who predeceased her in 1921.

Trying To Cap Volcano

Managua, Nicaragua.—German engineers are engaged in the unique task of trying to put a cap on a volcano, Masaya, which is near the town of that name. They seek to close the crater so that its poisonous gases will not escape and damage the crops.

WOULD DEVELOP A DISTINCTIVE CANADIAN SPIRIT

Ottawa.—Canadian club members should do their part to develop a distinctive Canadianism urged C. G. Cowan, of Ottawa, president of the Association of Canadian Clubs, in welcoming the delegates to the opening session here of the 14th annual meeting of the association.

Mr. Cowan, in his presidential address, said that ties, tradition and sentiment keep Canada a part of the British Empire, but that was no reason, he pleaded, why Canadians should not develop an individuality. It was not necessary, urged Mr. Cowan, that Canadian institutions should be simple imitations of either British or American. In a number of ways Canadians have already shown capacity to develop their own institutions.

Interchange of speakers and visits of club members will be continued, said Mr. Cowan, as the policy is considered effective in discouraging racial and sectional prejudices.

Too much is being heard, Mr. Cowan went on, quoting the remark of a recent writer, of east and west, of Ontario and Quebec, and not enough is being heard of Canada.

It was announced that preparations are being made for an adequate celebration next year of the sixtieth anniversary of Confederation throughout the Dominion. There will be a celebration in the capital, said Mr. Cowan, and also throughout the provinces, and the Canadian Clubs will be urged to take definite steps in that connection.

Canada Not A Candidate

Will Not Ask For Seat On League Council Says Sir George Foster

Paris.—The Geneva correspondent of Excelsior, a daily paper of Paris, states that some of the British dominions are urging Canada to ask for a seat on the league council, but he adds that Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, is not in favor of this. Other powers, the correspondent says, are not in favor of the proposal.

Sir George E. Foster, in reply to a query at Geneva, said that Canada was not a candidate for one of the nine newly created non-permanent seats on the council.

She Dances to the Waterfall

The wonderful setting of the little waterfall known as the Giants Steps, Paradise Valley, near Lake Louise, apparently inspired this nature-dancer with the spirit of life, and with the song of the water and the soft whistling of the bird-life abounding in the woods around. She was photographed while dancing to the music of her soul.

Oppose Wage Increase

Railway Companies Present Their Case In Wage Dispute

Montreal.—Maintaining that the present cost of living and the rates of pay now in existence as they affect conductors, trainmen and yardmen on the C.N. and C.P.R. do not justify an increase in wages, representatives of both railways presented their case to Mr. Justice Hugh T. Kelly, of Toronto, and his two colleagues on the board of arbitration and conciliation now attempting to arrive at a settlement in the wage dispute between employees of the two railways and their employers.

The railways point out that the existing rates were established by a board of conciliation in 1921 and that since that time the railways have suffered substantial reductions in passenger and freight rates and the cost of living has also decreased somewhat. The existing wage scale, they point out further, is the outgrowth of conditions developed during and subsequent to the war.

With regard to the present applicants who, the railways claim, are among the highest paid classes of railway employees in the Canadian service, the joint statement of the companies points out that the application is identical in all respects with those already submitted to and declined by the United States roads.

Trouble In Spain

Belief Is Expressed That Revolt Is Only Sidetracked

London.—Uncensored dispatches from Spanish correspondents of some of the London morning papers represent the trouble in Spain rather as having been sidetracked than definitely overcom by authoritds.

A dispatch to the Daily Express from Barcelona reports that the army in Spain has been split in two, that there have been mutinies throughout the country and that the navy is exhibiting unrest.

Hundreds of apprehensive Spaniards are said to be fleeing into France to invest their capital there.

Continue Customs Probe

Inquiries In Maritimes Finished and May Be Resumed In Vancouver

Montreal.—The royal commission investigating the administration of the customs department has now finished its inquiries in the Maritime province and will probably proceed at the beginning of next month to Vancouver, it was stated by R. L. Calder, K.C., counsel for the royal commission.

After Vancouver the commission would probably proceed to Windsor, Ont., and Toronto.

GERMANY NOW IS A MEMBER OF THE LEAGUE

Geneva.—Germany, with impressive unanimity was elected a member of the League of Nations, and was thus bidden to enter the portals of Geneva's institution of peace.

Without a dissenting vote also Germany was designated "for all time" as president Nincitch put it, a member of the league council, and will thus sit as the equal of France, Great Britain, Italy and Japan.

Germany has accepted the action of the league, for Sir Eric Drummond, secretary-general, received a telegram from Gustav Stresemann, the German foreign minister, announcing the departure of a German delegation for Geneva, and by this acceptance commits herself to submission to all the obligations and responsibilities under the covenant of the league, which was fashioned to outlaw war.

The assembly also ratified the recommendation for an increase of the number of the non-permanent members of the council from six to nine.

Another incident compelling international attention was India proclaiming with no faltering voice her ambition to become a self-governing country, like Canada or Australia. Speaking first in perfect English, then translating his own address into faultless French, the Maharajah of Kapourthale, attired in the latest occidental garb, spoke feelingly of the awakening India, voicing the united and self-governing country like Canada or Australia.

He related India's progress in the social and hygienic fields and assured the delegates that India's 300,000,000 inhabitants were represented at Geneva by a delegation ready and eager to do its share in the betterment of the world.

Now that Germany's advent into the league is assured, statesmen are concentrating their attention on the question of the Reich's probable political activities at Geneva. Leading delegates venture the hope that Germany will not act brusquely but will feel her way gradually toward a solution of outstanding problems, such as the restoration of her colonies and the evacuation of German soil.

Wrecked German Express

Two Unemployed Men Caused Death Of Twenty-two Passengers

Berlin.—Two unemployed men, Otto Schlessinger and Willy Weber, arrested on suspicion of having caused the disaster to the Berlin-Cologne express near Lehnre, August 19, in which 22 passengers were killed, are said to have confessed.

The police assert that the men said they tore up the track with the intention of derailing the train, but when the wreck occurred they were so horrified by the screams of the injured that they fled, abandoning the chance to plunder the coaches.

Plans Visit To Palestine

Prince of Wales Will Dedicate War Cemetery Next Year

Jerusalem.—The Prince of Wales will visit Palestine during April of next year, to dedicate the war cemetery on Mount Scopus. It is learned here.

General Sir George MacDonough, Sir Frederic Kenyon and Lord Arthur Brown have inspected the war graves on behalf of the British war graves commission.

Encourage British Emigration

London.—In a letter to the Morning Post, Lady Aberdeen suggests a plan to encourage British emigration to Canada, namely that brothers and sisters of all classes should go out together, claim their land grant, take service with neighboring farmers and learn farming and the customs of the country while watching over the erection of their house and the preparation of their farm.

Ends State of War

Madrid.—King Alphonso signed a decree ending the state of war which was proclaimed throughout Spain in consequence of the mutinous movement in the artillery corps.

Jim McDougall is representing the Didsbury Golf Club at the Herald Golf Competition commencing Friday afternoon. Jim is a good golfer and we wish him the best of luck.

R. H. McEwan, for sometime past teller at the Bank of Montreal here, has been transferred to the main office in Calgary. His position has been filled by F. Redgwell, of Calgary.

Special services commemorating the seventy-fifth anniversary of Rebekah Oddfellowship will be held in Knox church on Monday evening, September 20th, at 8 p.m. Sisters and brothers, and brother Oddfellows are urged to attend. The public is also cordially invited to join in the service. Rev. Hayes will conduct the service. All members of the orders will meet in the lodge rooms at 7.45.

From a report issued at the experimental farm, Lacombe, it is learned that the total precipitation for the past eight months of 1926 was 19.34 inches, with 2.1 inches during the past six days of September. The average precipitation for the last 18 years has been 17.2 inches, and the wettest year was 1916 with 22.9 inches. Only four years in eighteen have been over 20 inches. 1926 promises to set a new record, with four months still to go. The driest years were 1920 and 1922 with 12.41 and 12.44 inches. The coldest day was December 29, 1924, with 57 degrees below zero, and the hottest was July 2, 1924, with 100.8 degrees.

Demonstration of Wheat-hauling.

A. E. Martin, proprietor of the Martin Motors, gave a very practical demonstration last Saturday of the capabilities of the Ford one ton truck and incidentally brought in the first wheat to reach the Gleichen elevators of this year's production. Proceeding from his garage with a Ford truck weighing 2690 pounds, Mr. Martin loaded into the truck 4170 pounds of wheat at M. Bolinger's farm east of town.

When loaded those present were willing to bet the truck would not take the load out of the field over the soft earth of the stubble field to the road. However, this very thing Mr. Martin proceeded to do, and did do. Not content with this Mr. Martin then hooked his truck on to a grain wagon weighing 1910 pounds and loaded with 7690 pounds of wheat. To celebrate the occasion men and children next climbed on the truck adding 785 pounds more.

Thus the one-ton truck pulled into town altogether 17,245 pounds, or 11,890 pounds of wheat, or six tons of wheat less 110 pounds.

This grain was hauled to the United Grain Growers Elevator in Gleichen, where it was graded No 1, and weighed by Manager N. A. Riddell, and witnessed by Jos. Robinson, while Jas. Young and others followed the entire proceedings from the time the truck left town saw it loaded, pulled out of the field, hook on to the grain wagon, came with it to town and were present at the weighing.

This is a record Mr. Martin may feel proud of and speaks volumes for the Ford one-ton truck for the Martin Motors are the local agents—Gleichen Call.

Flour Shipped from U.S. into Canada.

Winnipeg, Sept. 13—Last week two large shipments of flour from Minneapolis were sold on the Winnipeg market. The freight was 50c a bushel and the duty 50c. This consignment was sold at a profit in competition with the flour made in Winnipeg.

One local paper commenting on the amazing fact that flour can be sent to Canada from a foreign country into the Canadian wheat belt that supplies the world and sold at profit in competition with Canadian mills that can turn out products as economically as anyone, refers to it as "one of the eccentricities of the Canadian tariff."

While Canadian wheat is taxed 42c a bushel and flour 2 1-2c going into the States, the Canadian tariff is so nominal that with cheap wheat from Kansas now being ground in Minneapolis this market can be taken over by alien competition at a profit while the American market is protected from Canadian competition by the tariff.

A Singular Marathon.

The reading of the Bible from the first chapter of Genesis to the last chapter of Revelations in a single day was the feat accomplished by the congregation of the Methodist church at Penn Yann Geneva, a short time ago, to stimulate interest in the Bible and to give impetus to a revival movement in religious circles of the village. Two hundred persons, reading on schedule, co-operated, starting at 3 o'clock one morning and concluding at 8 o'clock at night.

R. B. Bennett only Conservative on Western Plains.

Candidates elected: Liberals 3; Conservatives 1, U.F.A. 11, Labor 1, Total 16.

In the last house the Alberta representation was divided as follows: Liberals 4, Conservatives 3, U.F.A. 9.

That means that the Liberals made a net loss of one, which went to the U.F.A. Conservatives made a net loss of two, one going to Labor and the other to the Liberals. The U.F.A. made a gain of two seats.

The closest election was East Edmonton, where Mayor Blatchford captured the seat, having a majority of 109, with one poll to hear from.

Stewart, in West Edmonton, had a comparatively easy fight, and the result was never in doubt.

The Liberals lost in Wytas-kiwin, where William Irvine, former Labor member for East Calgary, comes back to parliament, but now a U.F.A., after an absence of one session. Tobin, Liberal candidate made a very excellent run.

The other Liberal loss was in Athabasca, where Cross was not seriously expected to win.

Dr. Gershaw carried Medicine Hat for the Liberals by a very good majority.

Of the other elections, those of Bow River and Camrose were the most interesting. Garland had the fight of his life, but he beat Scratch by over 2,000.

The other keen election was in Camrose, where Lucas managed to win out, after a keen battle with Melvor.

Kennedy carried Peace River by a fair majority. Joe Clarke, the Liberal candidate, fell far behind expectation.

R. B. Bennett is the only Conservative elected in Alberta, and the only Conservative elected on the prairies.

• Fine New C.P.R. Pier for Vancouver

Growth of the port of Vancouver to proportions that put it on a level with the major harbors of the world is indicated by the opening in August and September of the new Canadian Pacific Railway pier. The pier sheds are 109 feet wide and lie on either side of a central depressed track area containing four tracks. A two-storey headhouse the full width of the pier is located at the shore end and this provides storage space and driveways into the sheds while the upper floor has passenger handling facilities, baggage room and office and store rooms for the company's steamship services.

Two railway tracks and one travelling gantry crane will run along the deck outside of the sheds on each side of the pier. Four depressed tracks will be located on the fill in the centre of the pier for the handling of freight to and from the sheds. Continuous sliding doors will be installed on both sides of the sheds so that freight may be taken directly through the sheds from ships' slings to cars. The columns supporting the roof on the inboard side of the shed have been set back 12 feet from the line of these doors to avoid the necessity of closely spotting cars. Eight marine elevators will be installed on the pier—three on each side and two on the outboard end. These elevators will be of what is known on the Pacific Coast as the "Barlow" type, being so constructed that when the elevator is lowered an apron will project out into the sideport of a ship lying alongside, thus enabling freight to be moved directly from the ship to the dock by means of trucks. Most of the coastwise boats load and unload from their side ports, while the ocean going steamers of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, with the exception of the "Empress of Australia," use side ports for the loading and unloading of silk and of baggage. The deck above these Barlow elevators will be constructed of a steel bridge, which will carry two railway tracks and one crane rail. Mechanism will be provided so that these bridges may be hoisted vertically a distance of 15 feet thus clearing the elevator shafts for the operation of the elevator.

Two ten-ton baggage elevators connecting the main deck with the baggage room on the upper deck of the headhouse will be installed. On the viaduct there will also be installed one twenty-ton team elevator with a platform approximately 12 by 35 feet.

Prince Talks Over Radio

Address At Oxford Interesting From Point of Pronunciation

It was interesting to listen to the Prince of Wales' address at Oxford over the radio from the point of view of the pronunciation controversy. His Royal Highness pronounces the "t" in often. He says "die-rection" and "acoustics," and stresses the first syllable of "illustrate" and "pursuit." In the Prince's English, "laboratory" is still an uncertain word, for he pronounced it first with the accent on the lab, and then with the accent on the or. The royal jest that was best appreciated was the remark about the collar which came home "with an edge like a circular saw." It was an unexpected revelation; one had imagined that princes of the Blood were immune from these misadventures of lesser mortals.

"You will want your own maid, of course. But I haven't engaged one. You will want to engage her yourself. I fancy Walker can send you a collection of them—he has a way of producing them when they're needed. I shall advise a French girl, or an English one. The first will be more skillful, the other more loyal."

Joanna couldn't stifle her laugh. "You'll have to tell me what to do with a maid," she explained. Then something like a phantom of tears hovered suddenly in the deep brown eyes. "You know, I feel terribly alone," she said, "and terribly afraid—of myself, I mean."

Yvonne swept the girl's face with a quick glance. She spoke quietly to the maid who fluttered about the room. The maid went out, closing the door behind her. To Joanna Yvonne said: "Come and sit down." She indicated the divan beside her. "If you'd like one there are cigarettes in the box on the tabouret. I think I'll have one, too." Before she spoke again she drew a contemplative puff and allowed the smoke to curl slowly from her lips. Joanna watched her silently. Her first words were abrupt.

"There are a great many people who enjoy themselves talking about me," she said. "And some of them take an especial delight in talking in whispers. What do you know of me?"

These were tactics that would not disconcert Joanna. She was too accustomed to making sudden attacks herself, or defending them. "Only what everybody knows," she replied frankly. "We read about you, you know, and your pictures always are in the newspapers. I've thought more of you than I ever did of a motion picture star, and that's a lot."

"Why?" This was more difficult. The girl hesitated, faltered. Again Yvonne's voice, clear, bell-like, clipped the one word:

"Why?" "I think," Joanna ventured, "it's because you make people talk about you. Wherever you go, and whatever you do, people talk about it. It's being famous and besides, being famous for yourself, not for what you do. And you have such a wonderful round of pleasure."

Yvonne contemplated her cigarette again, following the lazy drifting of its wreath of smoke. "No," she said, "that is not the reason you have been interested in me; and it is not the reason you were so willing to come to me when I invited you." A smile suddenly played at her mouth and she nodded at the girl on the divan beside her. "Is it?" she insisted.

Joanna smiled back at her. "No, I don't think it is, altogether," she agreed brightly, "but that is as close as I can put it into words. You see, all my life, that is, since I've been alone and making my own way, I've had to fight hard to keep up with the crowd. I've wanted things that cost money, and I've wanted things that you can't have, or enjoy, when you're skimped. The things you need to make a show. The best I could ever do was owe somebody installments on a dress or a wrap or my shoes, and keep my eyes open for runs in my stockings. I've looked all right, and I've laughed a lot, but things have always happened to make me cry, too."

Again that bell-like voice of the elder girl clipped off a question: "What, for example?"

Joanna studied a moment, her eyes looking out into the room. "They were just such little things," she protested; "things you wouldn't understand."

"I think I would understand," Yvonne persisted.

"But you wouldn't," Joanna argued. "One like you simply would not. I've cried my fool eyes out, often, because some man—some boy I liked, wouldn't stay square. And I've had nobody to talk anything over with. Mostly, people who are worth while to talk to make me tired—I mean, they don't know. When I cut my hair they thought I cut off my morals, and if I go off alone on a party they think I ought to be in a harem. When they tell me I don't act like the girls of yesterday I have to say who cares a hang about yesterday when there's so many today and then I'm told I'm just plain bad. Once in a while I get so cut up about it that I have to have a cry." She thought she finished lamely. She smiled a little at the futility of her explanations. But Yvonne displayed no amusement. She said very quietly:

"And don't you think that I am cut up a bit, now and then, when the people who are worth while, as you say of them, interpret me as both plain bad and fancy bad? Perhaps I am. There are different ways to view everything, but—well," she broke off, and was silent for a brief moment. "Well, you see that I do understand, after all," she added. And then: "You were glad to come to me because you think I am of today, and not yesterday; that I am the proof of all your little theories of what a woman ought to be today—Isn't that it?" (To be continued)

Canadian Industrial Development

Assisting Manufacturers and Others
In Locating New Materials

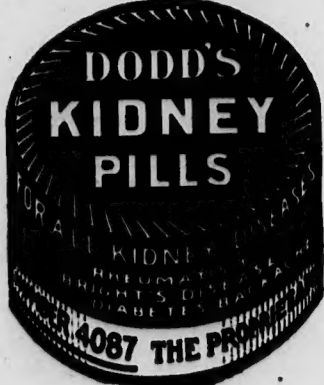

In pursuance of its work of advancing Canadian industrial development through the further use of Canadian resources, of advertising opportunities for investment of capital in prospecting, mining and recovering the wide variety of economic minerals both metallic and non-metallic found in the Dominion, of assisting manufacturers and others in locating raw materials for their products, the development branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's department of colonization and development publishes a very complete set of the synopses or leaflets descriptive of these resources located along its lines. The revised issue giving all the latest information available to the end of 1925 has just been distributed to the permanent mailing list.

The set comprises 57 leaflets each containing from two to six pages. They cover all the important minerals and resources of the Dominion, including the forestry situation. Over 300 complete sets and a large number of individual copies of the latest revision have just been mailed from the Montreal office of the company's development branch. The writer or compiler of each synopsis is a man selected for his outstanding knowledge of the subject dealt with. Figures and statistics are the latest procurable from the Dominion Government bureau of statistics and other authentic sources. Each subject is treated as fully as consistent with a concise, summarized presentation of the facts in the briefest possible form.

That business men, financial houses, mining interests, educational establishments and others find these publications of value is evidence by the fact that in the two years since the first distribution was made, over 77,000 copies have been furnished on request, and the demand is increasing. Apparently they fill the requirement of a brief survey of each situation from which the business man can obtain the salient facts he requires on the special subject of interest without search of voluminous reports or reference to books covering a variety of other irrelevant subjects.

SUMMER HEAT HARD ON BABY

No season of the year is so dangerous to the life of little ones as is the summer. The excessive heat throws the little stomach out of order so quickly that unless prompt aid is at hand, the baby may be beyond all human help before the mother realizes he is ill. Summer is the season when diarrhoea, cholera infantum, dysentery and colic are most prevalent. Any of these troubles may prove deadly if not promptly treated. ## CHAPTER XIV.—Continued.

She talked on, saying things that were meaningless to Joanna, the obvious things that had to do with the beginnings of a new friendship, and the prospects of a "jolly" time for the girl in a new life. A trim, lace-aproned and white head-dressed maid answered Yvonne's summons and replied to her mistress's questions that Miss Manners' apartment was in order.

"I've a little bedroom and a cozy sitting room for you, not too far from my own," Yvonne explained. "I hope you will be no end comfortable."

At a finger touch a gold panel in the wall of the reception hall slid back, disclosing a tiny lift elevator of the kind that is automatic. The maid followed them into the lift and pushed the buttons that sent it climbing to an upper floor. Joanna was strangely tremulous. She wanted to say bright things to the older woman who was ushering her into these new and luxurious surroundings, but her mind was in an uneasy turmoil. "Why was everything happening as it was? So naturally, so swiftly, so smoothly? Should she trust herself to Yvonne Courant?" She stole a glance at the woman who stood so close to her, and comprehended her extraordinary fascination, the hair that was as black as vulcanite, the magnolia-white face contrasting sharply with the two luminous black eyes, and the lips that were full and red without the exag-gerations of lip stick contours. The fear that vibrated through her at times with Brandon, the indubitable fear that seemed so unreasonable, gripped her for a second. Then her thoughts flashed to what Teddy Dorminster had said in the room downstairs: "A singer, or a dancer, or something like that? What was there wrong about her? She had put on her grey tailleur and the milk coat. And her smart, grey cloche hat was from a famous Avenue shop. Did she still remind one of the silk counter? And if she did, what of it? Weren't the imitations of the silk counter all right? Certainly there had been no girl in her merry go-as-fast-as-you-can without skidding crowd, who could profess to cause men's wives to need consolation because of them. But, of course, Yvonne had not been serious! It was just a manner of talk; the small talk she would have to learn.

All of these things flashed through the girl's agile mind while the tiny gold elevator lifted from the first floor to the third. When the car had stopped, and the maid had slid open the narrow gridded door and stepped out, Joanna had dispersed her doubts with a determined wave of confidence. The arrogance came back into her eyes and to her lips. "She'd get on, or she'd taken an awful wallop trying."

It was difficult for "Miss Twenty-seven" to understand, for a time, that the exquisite miniature drawing room, rose shaded and satin hung, with windows looking down upon an open garden, was to be exclusively her's. With John, through such evenings as she had consented to stay in with him, she had planned, or rather, listened to him plan, the house that he would some day build for themselves. They had endowed this dream house with many idle fancies, but in her visions there had been no such splendors as the "little" room, with its rose bedroom and canopied bed beyond the softly draped door, which Yvonne had prepared for her. And Yvonne was saying:

EXPECTANT MOTHERS

Read Mrs. Menard's Letter.
Her Experience May Help

Chatham, Ontario.—"I want to tell you how much good your medicine has done me. Before my baby came I felt so weak and run-down that I could hardly do my work. My head ached continually and I was so discouraged that I could cry from morning till night. I had another baby just one year and a half old and it gave me a lot to do. So I thought I would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as I had read so much about it in the little books. I found a difference right away as my head was relieved and my tired feelings gone. My sister had been doing my washing and she continued doing it, as she said it might set me back if I started to do it again. It sure did help me and I had taken just two bottles when my baby came. He is a fine big boy, now nearly five months old. I am taking your medicine again and I am able to do my work all by myself now. I always recommend the Vegetable Compound to women, and especially to expectant mothers, as I believe they need help at those times."

H. E. Roppel, pastor

Where as the General Conference of the Evangelical church which only meets every four years will soon be in session at Williamsport, Pa., beginning October 7th, 1926, and whereas the question of forming our church interests here in the Canadian Northwest into a separate conference has been urged by a number of our ministerial and lay-members for several years past; therefore, the following questions are submitted to us which when answered will go before this forthcoming General Conference.

1. Are you of the opinion that this district including all our work in the prairie provinces should be converted into a separate conference? If so, why or why not?

What, in your opinion, would be the most suitable name for a new conference comprising our work in this territory?

3. Which would be the most convenient season of the year to hold an annual conference on this district with least interference by weather and industrial activities?

These questions will be put before the congregation next Sunday morning for discussion. Come prepared with an answer.

Death of Mrs. Ezra Siebert
Sarah Rebekah Tracksell, wife of Mr. Ezra Siebert, passed away on Friday afternoon, September 10, 1926, in her home 18 miles east of Didsbury in the Siebertville community where the deceased was well and favorably known during her abode of 18 years there. Her death was preceded by a stroke on Monday evening after which she lay in an unconscious state until death released her on Friday. She was in her 42nd year and leaves to mourn her departure a sorrowing husband and one daughter 9 years old. Two children preceded her in death. She also leaves two sisters, Lizzie and Maude and five brothers, Edwin, Leland, Milton, Samuel and John. Mrs. Siebert (Lizzie) and Mr. John Tracksell were the only two of the deceased's brothers and sisters present at the funeral. The funeral services were conducted on Sunday afternoon, September 12th by Rev. H. E. Roppel in the Ev. church after which the burial took place in the Didsbury cemetery. The funeral text was taken from Psalms 10:12, "So teach us to number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom."

KNOX UNITED CHURCH.

The minister has been giving a series of sermons on large themes, which have been much appreciated. The subject "war and peace," was followed by a sermon on the Gospel according to St. Luke. This Sunday, the study has to do with the inner life and the title is "The Sources of Surplus Power in Human Life." Everyone who has observed people at all is conscious that some have more capacity than others. It occurs to few that much of the power they envy in others, is to be found right in their own lives. Every individual has surplus power just at hand. The problem is how to draw upon it.

Mr. Hayes is to deal with this vital question Sunday. It is one of the most fascinating and helpful studies to which one can turn. It is of tremendous importance to all who seek to live the Christ like life.
